DOWNED THE BROWNS.

Baldwin and His Colleagues Have Quite an Easy Time of It. SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 27 .- If ever a club got beautifully even for a defeat, Pittsburg did to-day, and they nailed the Browns in a fashion which CTORY depicted the sweetness of revenge. The Browns played a listless and indifferent game, and experienced not the slightest difficulty in laying down while Pittsburg leisurely walked away with the game. Mark Baldwin pitched one of his old time games and he did nothing but rub it into the Browns. He saw that he had a snap, and let up in his speed after the sixth inning. Gleason and Buckley both had an off day, Gleason especially showing a spirit of indifference and slovenly work which reflected in any way but creditably.

In the seventh inning the team got tired of his indifference and gave a beautiful exof his indinerence and gave a beautiful ex-hibition of juggling, fumbling and weirdly wild throwing that simply resulted in cinching the Pittsburg's walk-away. Pitts-burg's game was perfection itself, their only error of any description being a questionable one by Baldwin on his fielding of a bunt hit. He was superbly backed upon all sides, and when Miller's hand began paining him and Mack succeeded him Kelly retired, and their team work was a marvel to behold.

After the sixth inning Baldwin took things easy and the Browns got in two runs in the last two innings on Glasscock's triple, a wild witch in the eighth and Brodie's single, a wild pitch and two sacrifices. The Pittsburgs hit Gleason at will, Donovan. Miller and Bierbauer especially get ting in their stick work. The fielding of Shugart and Bierbauer has seldom been excelled. They had 20 chances between them

VETERAN WRIGHT'S OPINIONS. He Does Not Want a World's Cha

Series This Year. Washington, Sept. 27.—[Special.]—Manager Wright, in discussing the baseball outlook to-day, expressed the spinion that it would be better for the interests of the national game if the Bostons and Clevelands de clined to play a world's championship series at the close of the second half of the present

"Just so sure as Boston and Cleveland "Just so sure as Boston and Cleveland come together for such an exhibition," remarked the veteran manager, "then will go up a hue and cry of collusion and throwing games, which cannot fail to hurt this great pastime. Better let the Bostons remain champions of the East and Cleveland of the West without making any further attempt at superiority. I am glad to know that this disposition is manifested upon the part of the management of the Bostons, and they can stand any charge of cowardice or lack of enterprise that may be hurled against them for taking such a stand. There is an idea in the minds of the public that the bunt hit should be abolished, as well as the double championship series. Encourage bunting and sacrifice hitting by all means say I. Baseball has not been a very prosperous enterprise this year, and the indications point strongly to a radical reduction in players' salaries next senson."

Shugart Slated for St. Louis. St. Louis, Sept. 27 .- Shugart, the Pitts burg team's short-stop, will, it is reported, to-morrow be traded to the St. Louis club for Glasscock, who holds the same position in the home team. The ten days' notice o release given Glasscock in Washington by Mr. Von der Ane expires to-night, and the exchange for the Pittsburg man has been on the books several days. The only bar to its consummation is a cash bonus which Mr. Von der Ahe thinks he should have, and this question will not, it is thought, be allowed to interfere long.

Will Release Wood. Cincinnati, Sept. 27.-[Special] - George Wood is ending his days as a Red and King Hoover, late of Rochester, is expected he to-morrow to assume a place in right field The Colonels have transferred all October series to this city, and they play here October 7, 8 and 9. The destruction of their grand stand by fire makes this programme necessary. Chicago is also coming down to play the games scheduled for that city October 10 and 11. It is much too cold for balt there

More Games Transferred. The fire at the Louisville baseball grounds which destroyed the grand stand, has caused the Louisville club to transfer the three games which had to be played there this week with the Pittsburg team to this city. The local team cannot get home from St. Louis to play here to-morrow, and two games will be played on Friday or Saturday. With the Louisville games the local team will have il games at home straightaway before the season closes.

Fire Stopped the Game. LOUISVILLE, Sept. 27.—The main stand and cottage at Louisville Baseball Park were destroyed by fire about midnight. The fire was evidently of incendiary origin and could not be extinguished. The rows of 25-cent seats were saved, and carpenters may be able to put things in order for two games to-morrow, as none could be played to-day. The grand stand was refitted last spring and the total loss is about $10,000, with $2,500 insurance.

A Player for New York. BINGHAMTON, Sept. 27 .- [S] al.]-Manage Powers, of the New York Club, has completed a deal for the release of third base-man M. F. Keeler, of the Binghamton club, and Keeler has signed a contract with the New York club. To-Day's League Schedule.

Pittsburg at St. Louis, Cleveland at Cin cinnati, Chicago at Louisville, Brooklyn at-Boston, New York at Baltimore, Philadel phia at Washington.

The Diamond. STRACUSE will be out of baseball next season.

WELL, Mark Baldwin was once more a winner JOE HORNUNG hopes to get a place on the league tail next season. THE Oakland (Cal.) club has again released the old leaguer, Fred Carroll. WE are again tied for third place and the won ders of Brooklyn must be shaken off to-day.

Two Johns-The second game is the regularly cheduled game and is the one to which bets refer. THE Clevelands won again. They are playing fine ball right along, with a big lot of luck along with it. THE games between the East End Gyms and the Wilkinsburg teams Saturday next promise to be good ones.

The patronage of ball games recently at severa League cities ought to convince some magnates of the 12-club league folly. THE New Yorkers say that their attendances are small enough, but not a marker to the handful of people who show up in Brooklyn. MIRE KELLY accepts Jack Crooks' challenge of throwing and names Tommy Esterbrook as his choice; 100 to 1,000 throws in every or any position; but up or shut up.

HERMAN DORSCHER is in trouble at Bingham-ton. It is hinted that the old umpire has just or mislaid a few dollars. At any rate the club has a loss to confront instead of the expected dividend. a loss to confront instead of the expected dividend.

L. K., UNIONTOWN—Neither party can win either on absolu'e result or approximation, as both guesses were wrong as far as the actual result was concerned. At best the bet was a foolish one, as the odds were greatly against either man's prediction being right.

THE Chicago club, disgusted with the attendance at home, has started to transfer games. Yesterday morning Captain Anson agreed to transfer the games with Fittsburg, October 7 and 8, from the windy City to Exposition Park. Pittsburg pays Anson's transportation and botel bill and gives him half of all receipts. This gives Pittsburg eighth straight games at home.

ex.-MANAGER BARNIE, who speaks from experience, says that veteran players, and especially ex-managers of teams, should never be appointed as umpires. The players take the greatest pleasure in getting off old grudges at the umpire's expense, besides which half of them tack the proper contro of temper to act in the position. Ward, Anson Comiskey, Ewing et al. would never succeed a umpires.

ACCORDING to the figures given out for publica-tion by the officials, the attendance at the games of the first championship season throughout the country was 1,097,098. Up to the present date the attendance at the games of the second season has been 627,819. In the remaining three weeks the at-tendance will have to reach 409,230—an average of about 4,300 to a game—in order to equal the attend-ance of the first season. TIM MURNARE wires the Boston Globe: "The Baltimore club is sadily demoralized. All the players compiain bitterly of Manager Hanlon's treatment. Stovey says he is disgusted with the business since coming here, and can now fully appreciate what a city Boston was to play ball in. Hanlon is failing the men for poor playing and mistakes thereby keeping on the right side of President Voncerhorst, who knows about as much baseball at Chris Von der Abe."

VALUABLE DOGS DESTROYED,

The Recent Storm Kills Sixteen of Famou Hunting Canines at Long Island. New YORK, Sept. 27.—Lightning did strangely fatal work at the kennels of the Brooklyn Gun Club, Smithtown, L. L, during Saturday's violent thunder storm. It resulted in the electrocution of sixteen hunting dogs with long pedigrees.

As all of the members owned valuable dogs that were to be quartered on the club's preserves during the shooting season, a row of kennels was constructed on the brow of a of kennels was constructed on the brow of a bill at the rear of the club house. They were placed twenty feet apart. A strong steel wire was stretched from the tops of each kennel, and thicker wire, forty feet distant, ran parallel with the kennels. Each dog was attached to the wire on its kennel by a metal collar about its neck, a chain and a ring. The ring and chain allow the dogs to move forty feet from their kennels without being able to fight with one another.

Irish setter Lord Chumley, belonging to General Wingate. This dog was valued at $1,000. A rare breed of dachshound, the property of Dr. Aten, was also killed.

John Downer, steward of the club, who had charge of the dogs, heard a terrific clap of thunder and saw the lightning's blinding flash. This was instantly succeeded by a chorus of yells and howls. Then all was still. Downer ran to the kennels to find the dogs dead, with their necks under their collars seared as if by a hot iron.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 .- The international cricket match between the Irish team and all Philadelphia was won by the former by 127 runs. The Philadelphians in their first inning made 123 runs and in their second to-day they batted out 164 runs. The Irishmen made 175 in their first and 259 in their second inning.

of the brain as Muldoon, and if he did, why hasn't Muldoon discovered this before?

"About Muldoon's backing John for $5,000 and training him to fight any man in the world, I will say in behalf of Sullivan that Muldoon is not wanted, and he knows only too well that Sullivan would not speak to him if he met him on the street. Sullivan's friends to a man stand by him as they did before his fight at New Orleans, and my offer made after that bathe still goes; that is, I will match him against any man in the world for $20,000. I am positive that when Sullivan reads the statement of Muldoon he will convince the gentleman that he is not wanted under any circumstances." Excellent Finishes Among the Run-

A REPLY TO MULDOON.

Charley Johnston Says a Few Words About Sullivan's Recent Training. New York, Sept. 27 .- [Special.] - Muldoon's statement in yesterday's DISPATCH that Sul-livan's brain should have been trained as much as any other part of his anatomy for his late fight with Corbett caused considerable merriment among those who have been associated with John L. for years. When spoken to regarding the matter Charley Johnston said:

"Muldoon is losing his hold with the public and is trying to do something to get it back. That's my honest opinion about the affair. If I did not think that his statement was a fling at Casey I would take no notice of him; but when he says that John L. Sullivan was not trained for his fight with Corbett he is wrong. John was trained as well as any man in the history of the prize ring and could not have been placed in better condition. As far as condition was concerned, he could have fought all night on September 7, and Sullivan will say to-day that he was a 100 per cent better man then than when he fought Kiirain. In that fight he was puffing and blowing in three rounds, but at New Orienns his wind and strength were just as good at the end of the twentieth round as when he started.

"Muldoon further says that Sullivan has a tendency to take on flesh at the brain, near the spinal cord, and this would make him slow in his movements. Sullivan is not near as likely to make as much flesh at the base ffair. If I did not think that his statement
